

Infinitus Bio

Infinitus is a string trio known for their unique sound and upbeat performance style. With programs that feature polished classical works and original jazz, latin and hip-hop arrangements/compositions, audiences can expect a fun and interactive concert experience.

Infinitus was formed in 2002 by twins Alex and Anthony Cheung. Initially a string quartet, the group has recently evolved into a dynamic trio with the recent addition of violinist John "Adidam" Littlejohn. The members hold degrees from the University of Michigan and the Peabody Conservatory and have won numerous awards at the local, national, and international level. The group won the grand prize at the 2003 Friends of Chamber Music Competition and have been broadcasted on radio station CO-OP 102.7 FM and CBC Radio Two. Studio credits include numerous commercials and the soundtrack to the 2005 movie, "The Score," which received Top Ten Film Fest Picks (Georgia Straight) at the Vancouver International Film Festival, a 2006 Leo Nomination (Best Musical Score), and a 2006 Gemini Nomination (Best Original Music Score).

Infinitus is dedicated to quality outreach and often performs for schools, nursing homes, hospitals, Native reserves, and prisons. In the 2007-08 season they performed over 130 outreach concerts throughout British Columbia.

"Infinite talent from Infinitus." – The Prince Rupert Daily News

"A high energy and interactive performance of both modern hits and classic repertoire. ...[Infinitus] had us dancing in the aisles – literally. They were technically superb, wonderfully informative and enormously fun." – Kathleen Glynn-Morris, St. Francis in the Wood Newsletter

"Consisting of gifted musicians from Canada and the U.S., [Infinitus] presented a mix of classical, jazz, latin, and hip-hop music to the great delight of island audiences, both in the schools and at two concerts sponsored by the QCI Arts Council...and were given a standing ovation." – The Queen Charlotte Arts Council
