

Infinitus Bio

Infinitus is a string trio known for their unique sound and upbeat performance style. With programs that feature polished classical works and original jazz, latin and hip-hop arrangements/compositions, audiences can expect a fun and interactive concert experience.

Infinitus was formed in 2002 by twins Alex and Anthony Cheung. Initially a string quartet, the group eventually evolved into a dynamic trio with the recent addition of violinist John "Adidam" Littlejohn. The members hold degrees from the University of Michigan and the Peabody Conservatory and have won numerous awards at the local, national, and international level. The group won the grand prize at the 2003 Friends of Chamber Music Competition and have been broadcasted on radio station CO-OP 102.7 FM and CBC Radio Two. Studio credits include numerous commercials and the soundtrack to the 2005 movie, "The Score," which received Top Ten Film Fest Picks (Georgia Straight) at the Vancouver International Film Festival, a 2006 Leo Nomination (Best Musical Score), and a 2006 Gemini Nomination (Best Original Music Score).

Infinitus is dedicated to quality outreach. To date, they have performed for over 400 schools throughout Canada and the United States. The group is currently on the faculty of the Thrive City String Academy and the St. James Music Academy, both urban outreach music programs.

"Infinite talent from Infinitus." – The Prince Rupert Daily News

"In the hands of these gifted musicians...just about anything is possible." – The Oliver Chronicle

"They may have a violin in their hand, but they can play anything. They can play rock, they can play jazz, they can play classical music. They are so versatile, it's unbelievable. They put on a spectacular show. You wouldn't believe three young guys can carry an audience away, but they will." – The Orillia Packet & Times

"...it's amazing the musical concoctions these three award-winning musicians can cook up with just a violin, viola, cello and some vocalizations." – The Vancouver Sun

updated October 12, 2011